Korean Truce Effort Muddled By New Air Violation Charges

Russian Proposal On Korean Truce Rejected by UN

Western Powers Vote To Send Arms Problem to Disarmament Panel.

Paris, Jan. 19. (AP)—The United Nations General Assembly formally rejected today a Russian proposal for new Korean truce terms. By ratifying a decision taken two days ago in the 60-nation political committee, the assembly heeded the plea of Western Powers to let the current truce talks go on in Korea and sent the most recent Soviet arms-atom proposals to the UN's new Disarmament Commission for further study.

Russia revived an old proposal for an immediate Korean cease-fire and armistice, withdrawal of troops from the 38th parallel in 10 days and pulling out all foreign troops—including "volunteers"—in three months.

U. S. Delegate Ernest A. Gross said the move would only "confuse and delay the negotiations for an armistice in Korea" and debates here would not provide a substitute for the good faith needed on the other side.

Selwyn Lloyd, British Minister of State, told Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky from the rostrum that, if Russia really wanted a Korean armistice, Vishinsky "should bring his influence to bear where it may have some effect—on the North Korean and Chinese commanders."

The assembly turned down first the cease-fire and 38th parallel withdrawal proposals by a vote of 35 against, five (Soviet bloc) for, and 10 abstentions.

Then it rejected the proposal for all foreign troops and also foreign volunteer units—the Chinese Communists—to withdraw in three months from Korea by a vote of 31 against, seven for and 11 abstentions.

The delegates opened the session by voting 40 to 5, with three abstentions, to send the Vishinsky arms-atom proposals to the Disarmament Commission for study.

The session may have proved to be Vishinsky's last. No other items are now scheduled which would require his presence and he was expected to leave soon for Moscow.

Vishinsky addressed the assembly only briefly in what was a technical explanation of his vote. He pleaded for the assembly to adopt his proposal for condemnation of the Atlantic Pact as an aggressive bloc not fit for members of the UN, to declare for immediate prohibition of atomic weapons, and for a peace pact to be initiated by the United States, Russia, Britain, France and China, with other nations to sign it later.

Threat of Criminal Action Hangs Over Grain Dealers Named in Shortage Probe

Washington, Jan. 19. (AP)—A threat of possible criminal action by federal prosecutors today hung over some of the southwest grain and elevator men named in Senate testimony as being involved in shortages of Government grain. The shortages are now estimated at nearly four million dollars.

Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate agriculture committee told a reporter that Secretary of Agriculture Brannan had promised to follow through "with criminal action in any case where the facts warrant such action."

Ellender's committee late yesterday recommended a full-dress $50,000 Senate probe of any shortages in storage of Government-owned grain and other Agriculture Department activities.

The action came after public testimony by Secretary Brannan and Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren.

Warren testified that some 50 different cases of "conversion or shortages" had been found in the area under the Dallas, Texas, office of the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC).

The comptroller general, who serves as a spending watchdog for Congress, listed seven cases of "admitted or known conversion cases," 14 other cases of "shortages in which it is not yet determined whether the shortage is a conversion" and 29 other cases "in which a shortage is known, or believed to exist."

Senators as well as Secretary Brannan agreed in the hearing that "conversion" of the Government-owned grain by private elevator and storage men should be called "embezzlement or stealing."

Warren criticized the Agriculture Department for not acting with more speed on some of these shortages but Brannan said it was difficult to prepare such cases, although 12 already "are in the court stages."

"It is not possible to file bankruptcy petitions and secure indictments on the basis of rumors," the secretary said. "When a warehouseman is charged with what in effect amounts to stealing CCC grain, it is absolutely necessary to prove certain very definite and basic facts."

He said both civil and criminal court actions were being considered.

The comptroller general listed these actions taken on the following firms with the estimated dollar shortages:

"Shannon Elevator Company, Sudan, Texas, estimated shortage $869,161. A receiver was appointed by the U. S. Court, Northern District of Texas, to operate this firm on or about November 16, 1951. At the present time the PMA (Production and Marketing Administration) office of compliance and investigation is conducting an investigation, the findings of which will be turned over to the regional attorney for use in possible criminal action."

"Henderson Grain and Storage Company, Farwell, Texas, $751,790. A receiver was appointed for this company by the U. S. Court, Northern District of Texas, on December 21, 1951, and the PMA office of compliance and investigation is, at the present time, conducting an investigation with the intention of referring the case to the U. S. District Attorney, Northern District of Texas, for criminal action."

"E & S Bonded Warehouse, San Antonio, Texas, $153,603. This company has been referred to the U. S. Attorney, Western District of Texas, for criminal action against the operators of this company and the operators of the Union Feed Company, San Antonio, Texas, which is an affiliated company."

Negro Slayer Gets Death Sentence

Palestine, Jan. 19. (AP)—Alton Paris, 59-year-old Negro charged in the fatal shooting of State Game biologist Gus Engeling, was convicted of murder today and assessed the death sentence.

The district court jury studied the case from 2:30 p. m. until 6 p. m.

The defense contended the shooting was an accident.

Engeling's body was found lodged under a log in a swamp near here. He had gone into Catfish Creek swamp Dec. 13 to investigate shots heard on the game refuge and never seen alive again.

In arguments to the jury today district attorney John Dowdy and his assistants claimed the shooting was deliberate. They reviewed testimony of a state fire-arm expert that Engeling was shot from a distance of 35 to 40 feet. The prosecution claimed that evidence indicated Paris had shot at Engeling while the Negro was hidden in the underbrush.

After Paris had been questioned once and released, the prosecution said, the Negro apparently returned to the swamp and hid the body under the log in about 18 inches of water.

The defense placed Paris on the stand yesterday. The Negro said the shotgun discharged while he was running through the brush with the barrel of the gun pointing behind him. He denied returning to hide Engeling's body.

Transport Plane Crashes With at Least 36 Killed

Aircraft Misses Field And Falls into Sea After Trouble Strikes.

Sandsport Airport, B.C., Jan. 19. (AP)—A crippled DC-4 transport plane, homeward bound from the Far East with 43 persons aboard, undershot this Canadian airport early today and crashed into the sea.

Seven men were rescued by a rowboat guided through the darkness to them by their shouts.

Eight bodies have been recovered after being washed ashore by the changing tide. Plane salvage efforts were rushed.

A pilot who stopped off here before continuing to McChord (Wash.) Air Force base near Tacoma, said he was told all 43 aboard the plane had managed to get out of the belly-landed aircraft, but found themselves without life rafts.

The pilot, R. E. Nelson of Seattle, said he was told that the ill-fated transport's co-pilot, Kenneth Guhn of Seattle, went back to the plane cabin for life rafts.

But the plane, bobbing on 15 feet of water, sank before Guhn could reach the rafts and get out as water poured through the door, Nelson said.

Northwest Airlines said the plane carried two 20-man life rafts and one 10-man raft.

The returning passengers were from Korea and Japan. Identities were withheld pending notification of next of kin. The plane was U.S.-bound from Tokyo via Shemya, in the Aleutian Islands, and Anchorage, in Alaska and was headed for McChord.

Whether the service men aboard were returning veterans of the Korean war was not divulged.

The tail and one wing of the plane still were visible above the water. A line was put around the tail of the plane by salvage crews.

"It looks doubtful whether there are any other survivors," a Canadian official said.

The plane rested on a gravel bar in about 15 feet of water some three-fourths of a mile offshore, one wing and the tail poked out of the water.

The plane, a DC-4, was owned by Trans-World Airlines, leased to the military air transport service (MATS) and operated by Northwest Airlines crewmen.

CAR DELIVERY DELAYED

Detroit, Jan. 19. (AP)—New Buick and Chevrolet model cars went on sale today, but no deliveries reportedly were made pending government approval of specific dollars and cents prices. A General Motors Corp. spokesman said proposed prices have been filed with the Office of Price Stabilization.

Vernon Girl Named District FFA Sweetheart at Meeting

Murlene Phillips of Vernon was named District FFA Sweetheart in a contest in Electra Saturday which saw her win out over eight other contestants from all over the Electra District.

The daughter of Vivan W. Phillips of 3604 First Street, Miss Phillips was selected sweetheart of the local chapter only recently. As chapter sweetheart she automatically represented Vernon in the district contest. She is a freshman in Vernon High School.

Choice of the District Sweetheart was made by delegates from each of the schools represented at the district FFA Leadership contests staged in Electra Saturday.

In leadership competition the Quannah FFA chapter walked away with top honors. The chapter won four first places and one second place out of six leadership contests held at the district meeting.

Here are the contests and the schools listed according to their placings:

Senior FFA Quiz—Quannah, Midway, Electra and Iowa Park.

Junior FFA Quiz—Quannah, Northside, Petrolia, Henrietta and Midway.

Junior Farm Skills—Quannah,

LIBYA'S KING—King Idris I, above, heads the world's newest nation, the kingdom of Libya, formed under UN sponsorship of the provinces of Tripolitania, Cyrenaica and the Fezzan. The new monarchy has a population of 1,300,000, mostly Arabs.

Battle Rages In Ismailia For 2nd Day

Cairo, Egypt, Jan. 19. (AP)—Twenty Egyptians were reported wounded in another bloody fight in Ismailia today. The British said one of their soldiers was killed and six injured by a bomb exploded at the YMCA bridge.

In downtown Cairo, several hundred high school boys tossed stones at police and overturned a street car in a protest against the closing of a school for the rest of this year. Police dispersed them with tear gas. As a result of the demonstration, another high school was closed for the rest of 1952.

The fighting in Ismailia, midway point on the Suez Canal, followed prolonged fighting Friday at Port Said, at the Mediterranean end.

Both the Egyptian Governor and the British Army commander denied that the British cruiser Liverpool shelled Port Said during the skirmish. Two Cairo newspapers, Al Misri and Al Ahram, had reported the cruiser's guns were lobbing shells into the city.

The Port Said Governor reported one Egyptian killed and two Egyptians wounded there.

The British said mortars and three rounds from a 17-pounder gun were used to drive snipers out of the Port Said railway station area. They listed no casualties from snipers, but said a Methodist minister and a British officer had been beaten by "thugs."

During the confused fighting at Ismailia today, two bombs were exploded, one at the YMCA bridge and another at or near the Emperor bridge near the office of Egyptian Governor Ali Hilmi Bey.

Egyptian police Col. Ahmed Kamel gave the Egyptian casualties as 20, including an Egyptian soldier who was "passing by," three police and 16 civilians. Several hundred Egyptian soldiers are stationed in Ismailia, but thus far have stayed clear of clashes with the British.

Communists Say Planes Attacked Neutral Convoy

Allies to Investigate Latest Red Protest; No Threat to Talks Seen.

Munsan, Korea, Sunday, Jan. 20. (AP)—A new Communist charge of Allied aerial violation muddled still further the bogged-down Korean armistice talks Saturday.

The negotiators returned to Panmunjom today, however, or subcommittee sessions.

Injected into Saturday's unproductive meetings was a Red charge that four U. S. jet planes bombed and strafed a plainly-marked truce motor convoy between Kaesong and the Korean Communist capital of Pyongyang on Friday afternoon.

The Communists termed it "a grave protest." Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, United Nations command spokesman, said the charge would be investigated. But, he added that the Allies did not view the charge "with any more gravity than we have viewed past allegations."

No Threat Seen

U. S. Marine Col. James C. Murray, Allied liaison officer who received the Red protest, said later he did not regard it as any threat to break off the armistice talks.

The Communists asserted that, despite joint guarantees of safe conduct, two trucks and a jeep were attacked and two Communist soldiers were wounded.

The agreement provides that 12 Communist vehicles, marked with cherry red panels on the hoods, may use the Kaesong-Pyongyang road unmolested in daytime—six northbound and six southbound.

Still under Allied investigation was a Communist charge that a bomb was dropped in the Kaesong security zone Thursday.

Additionally, the Reds charged two other incidents—Allied flights over Chinese cities and the bombing of North Korean prisoner of war Camp No. 8 at Kangdong.

Allied negotiators referred to the Communist charges Saturday in suggesting a meeting of staff officers to draft safeguards for prisoner of war camps. The Communists agreed "in principle."

10 Planes Shot Down

The U. N. command acknowledged that planes bombed the Kangdong area Monday night, but blamed the Reds for refusing to pinpoint the location of prison camps. Peiping radio said 15 South Korean prisoners were killed and 64 wounded.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported Saturday that 10 Allied planes were shot down during the past week—two of them F-86 Sabre jets—in dogfights with Russian-built MIG-15's.

Japan to Expand National Police

Tokyo, Sunday, Jan. 20. (AP)—The newspaper Asahi reported today the Japanese Government has decided to expand the current 75,000-man National police reserve to 310,000 men by the end of 1953.

The usually reliable and conservative paper said an agreement was reached—in recent talks on the nation's budget—to build the force to 170,000 men this year. Maj. Gen. William Marquat, chief of Allied headquarters' economic and scientific section, engaged in the budget talks with the Japanese Finance Ministry.

Premier Shigeru Yoshida said last June 20 Japan intended to enlarge the police reserve while U. S. troops still were garrisoned in the country, but he didn't give any figures.

Skeleton of Houston Man Discovered Near Galveston

Galveston, Jan. 19. (AP)—The skeleton of Jim Earl Holder, 29, Houston, was found in a cedar thicket on the Wayman Ranch on Galveston Island this morning by the ranch foreman.

Holder had been missing since May 17, 1951, when he left Houston riding his motorcycle. The motorcycle later was found on West Galveston Beach about 400 yards from where the remains were discovered today.

Extension Course To Open For Vernon Nurses Tuesday

Plans for an "extension course" in nursing to start here Tuesday have been announced. The classes are scheduled to meet each Tuesday and Thursday nights for 21 sessions.

"The local registered nurse group is very interested in assisting with the training of vocational nurse students, and in working out some means whereby an extension course may be offered to those existing non-professional nurses who will be obtaining their license under the "Grandfather Clause" of the new law," a spokesman said.

A meeting was held recently between four registered nurses from Vernon and the district supervisor from the State Department of Vocational Education in order to work out this program.

An extension course approved by the State is available, providing a minimum of 12 students are enrolled. Any person who has had at least 12 months' experience in bedside nursing or three years in a doctor's office is eligible.

On completion of the course, a certificate is issued showing that the student has completed a 64-hour "refresher course."

The total cost of this course is $192. Of this amount, $144 will be paid by the State, leaving a balance of $48 to be raised locally. This amount is to be divided equally by the students enrolled. Incidentals will be paid for by the Vernon school system.

The objective of the course is to extend the knowledge of experienced practical nurses in order to provide adequate and safe care for patients in the community.

The classes will meet from 6 p. m. to 9 p. m. each Tuesday and Thursday night and will end on April 3.

Governor Shivers Requests Inspection Law Be Eased

Austin, Jan. 19. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today asked the Texas Public Safety Commission if it could modify enforcement of the car inspection law to make it "less of a burden and inconvenience to the people of Texas."

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Public Safety director, promised yesterday they would be eased.

He told a San Antonio luncheon club audience his department was doing its best "to reclarify the rules." He said "reclarify" meant "make it a little easier."

Shivers wrote his request to Garrison 24 hours after rejecting a legislator's demand for a special session to consider repeal of the law.

"In view of the widespread dissatisfaction over the provisions and enforcement of House Bill 223, the automobile inspection law, I request that the Public Safety Commission begin an immediate re-examination of the statute to see if its enforcement can be so modified as to make it less of a burden and inconvenience to the people of Texas," the Governor said.

He suggested the Commission and Garrison discuss provisions of the law with legislators who were instrumental in its passage.

Then, Shivers continued, a public hearing could be held for all interested individuals and groups to present opposition to or support for the law.

"The end result of this re-examination, I hope, will be that the law will be transplanted into a safety measure, which I am certain was the intent of the Legislature, without being a burden and inconvenience to automobile owners and the public generally," the Governor wrote.

Garrison said at Trinity that "the Governor and I think alike."

"They can't enforce the law. It's impossible. There are too many bugs in it," he declared.

Scores Injured In Plane Crash

Sacramento, Calif., Jan. 19. (AP)—A B-25, with one of its two engines conked out, pancaked atop a Mather Airforce guardhouse today and exploded.

First reports were that three men were killed and 10 were unaccounted for. Many others were burned. Estimates of the injured ran as high as 49.

The plane carried a crew of six or seven. The demolished guard house was occupied by more than 30 prisoners who just had returned from lunch.

The B-25 pilot, Lt. Philip Keck, of Sacramento, although out and suffering from shock, gasped out this brief account.

"I was coming in for a landing when one of my motors went out and we pancaked on top of a building. There were either six or seven on our plane. As far as I know none is dead."

A stockade chaplain said there were about 32 prisoners in the guard house. He said from seven to 10 minutes elapsed after the plane crashed on the building before an explosion spread fire and destruction.

The chaplain estimated that from five to 15 men were trapped in the building by the blast and resulting fire.

KOREA CASUALTIES LISTED

Slot Machine Roundup Hits At Gambling in Kentucky

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19. (AP)—The FBI's biggest state roundup of slot machines was extended swiftly into new Kentucky areas today. By nightfall 3,637 of the gambling devices valued at $1,000,000 had been seized.

Nine arrests today raised to 44 the total number of Kentuckians nabbed in the continuing anti-gambling drive launched with surprising suddenness yesterday.

Republicans End National Meeting on Fighting Note

San Francisco, Jan. 19. (AP)—Republicans wound up their mid-Winter meeting here today on a fighting note, with Harold E. Stassen voicing a challenge to Gov. Earl Warren's control of California's presidential nominating votes.

Stassen cast himself in a giant-killer role by announcing at a news conference that he regards "favorite son" states as part of his hunting grounds.

In this connection he said he will decide soon about entering the California June 3 primary.

The former Governor of Minnesota, and avowed candidate for the GOP nomination at the Chicago convention next July, said he definitely will enter the April 1 preferential primary in Nebraska. No other major candidate has said he will participate in that race.

The Stassen announcement came after he and Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) had voiced in Republican national committee sessions praise of General Douglas MacArthur.

The mention of MacArthur, whose name may be entered in the May 16 Oregon primary despite his assertions that he is not a candidate, brought cheers from the committee members.

Stassen said he thinks that for presidential candidates to avoid contesting in the home states of their opponents, as has been the custom in the past, only "keeps the bosses in control of the party."

Warren, asked for comment, said:

"I do not regard this as a favorite son contest.

"Our primary election is open to all who want to use it.

"It is not necessary to ask the permission of anyone to enter."

It was evident that Warren's supporters did not regard Stassen's possible entry as a serious threat to their control of the state's 70 votes.

Knowland wound up the national committee's sessions with a blistering attack on the Truman administration's handling of the Korean war.

He said that "some high in the State Department and the administration have tried to kid the American people into thinking that a stalemate with the 38th parallel is a great victory for the free world."

"It is, of course, no such thing," he declared. "To the contrary, it will tend to encourage aggression elsewhere, now that they may wrongly believe that the American people will always continue to accept such limitations upon our armed forces."

Building Permits Show Sharp Drop

New York, Jan. 19. (AP)—Building permits in 215 cities in December declined to $266,210,510, the smallest monthly total since February, 1949 and 37.6 per cent under $426,607,027 in December, 1950. Dunn & Bradstreet reported today.

It was the fourth straight monthly decline and brought to 10 the number of monthly declines in 1951.

Declines in December ranged from 55.0 per cent in the South Central states to 4.9 per cent in the Middle Atlantic states compared with the year-ago month.

Tunisia Torn By Outbreak Of Violence

Paris, Jan. 19. (AP)—Reports filtering out of strife-torn, censorship-clouded Tunisia tonight described new violence that brought the death toll in the current crisis to more than a dozen.

There was little official news. But what scattered reports did reach Paris agreed that outbreaks were continuing—and getting more violent—between Tunisians demanding their independence and the French-sponsored police trying to keep order.

Gunfire rattled at Mateur, a village southwest of the Mediterranean port of Bizerte.

French reports from the scene said seven Tunisians were killed and 26 wounded after about 2,000 men armed with clubs, pitchforks and stones, assaulted police headquarters. The attack apparently was set off by the arrest of three leaders of a Nationalist demonstration. A French witness said the police opened fire after 45 minutes of fighting.

Tunisian delegates, here to press the United Nations for intervention, said the incident started when police and French troops tried to break up a demonstration organized by a Tunisian Nationalist party, the Neo-Destour, in support of a Tunisian-wide general strike.

The delegates, Tunisian minister of justice Salah Ben Youssef and minister of social justice Mohammed Badra, prevailed on the Arab bloc in the United Nations to ask U. N. Assembly President Padilla Nervo of Mexico to try personally to stop the bloodshed in the North African protectorate.

The Tunisian Arabs already have asked the Security Council to step in and resolve the dispute between Tunisia and the French protectorate government. The dispute is over whether Tunisian Arabs shall have complete autonomy in handling their local affairs, or whether these affairs shall be managed partly by Frenchmen.

Russians Release Three Soldiers

Berlin, Jan. 19. (AP)—British officials said tonight the Russians have released three men held in the Soviet zone since last Saturday when they wandered off the Allied highway and wound up under arrest.

The three, assigned to Gracie Fields' tour of British troops units in Germany, were reported released at Helmstedt, where the Russian and British zones meet. They are Gordon Crier, manager of Miss Fields' tour; publicity agent Peter Wilson, and an army driver, Lance Corp. Michael Levy.

Fort Worth Chimp Tries To Telephone Relatives

Fort Worth, Jan. 19. (AP)—Poor Knucklehead can't use the telephone any more.

The Fort Worth Zoo decided that its chimpanzee maybe was too young for such a contraption and moved the telephone away from his winter cage in the zoo feed house.

Not that Knucklehead hadn't tried. For 15 minutes yesterday Mrs. Estelle Quisenberry, chief operator at the Fort Worth City Hall listened to somebody moving around. She told the zoo director that the "party won't talk and won't hang up."

That's when they found Knucklehead trying to make like a person.

Coal, Steel Workers Pose Red Problem

Vienna, Jan. 19. (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Minister of Manpower has admitted that the Communist government is having difficulty keeping coal and steel workers on their jobs.

The admission may mean that the ruthless Czech government attempt to improve output for the benefit of Russia is meeting passive opposition from thousands of "volunteer workers"—forcibly pressed into mines and factories.

The Labor Minister, Dr. Jaroslav Havelka, was quoted today by the Prague newspaper Rude Pravo as saying:

"We are fighting an extremely high rate of labor fluctuation which may upset all our efforts to provide new labor and all results of labor recruiting.

"All our efforts will be useless if new workers should run away from our factories in masses."

By "fluctuation" the Czechoslovak Communists mean absenteeism and that small amount of job-changing that is permissible under the government's labor mobilization program.

Havelka placed part of the blame for the "dangerous" situation upon government-appointed factory managers of the country's nationalized industries. He said they did not "understand that it is their responsibility to care for the new workers and to hold them."

The pyramids of Egypt, built from 3000 B. C. to 1800 B. C., were the monumental tombs of Egypt's pharaohs.

Connally to Face Initial Threat to Seat in Senate

Austin, Jan. 19. (AP)—The first serious threat in 18 years to unseat Texas' senior Senator Tom Connally gathered steam today.

Atty.-Gen. Price Daniel's two-chain statewide radio broadcast Monday night at 7:30 was expected to bring his candidacy into the open and touch off a blistering campaign. Connally, who went to the Senate in 1929, has not had a tough campaign since 1934.

There was virtually no doubt that Daniel's announcement would put the 41-year-old Attorney General definitely into the Senate race rather than for re-election or for the governorship in opposition to Allan Shivers.

Daniel's broadcast will originate from Dallas. It will be carried on the Texas Quality and Texas State networks, plus tie-in stations.

Former Congressman Martin Dies made some tentative motions in Connally's direction this week, but it was still considered unlikely that he would make it a three-way battle. Dies was looked on as a sure-fire candidate for Congressman-at-large. He said he would make the race for the Senate if he could raise $100,000 for a war chest.

A voice from recent past governor's races was heard again this week. From Louisiana, Cato March announced he will stay out of Texas politics this year. He was defeated for the governorship against the late Beauford H. Jester and Shivers. March said he has a federal civil service job.

The open battle for control of the May presidential state convention at San Antonio began with a meeting of conservative "uninstructed" Democrats at Houston. It was regarded as the kick-off in Shivers' statewide drive against President Truman's renomination.

The pro-Truman Democrats were working, but with a little less fanfare, from their headquarters at Austin. This faction will go aloft over the state to line up delegates on a precinct-by-precinct basis.

While Republican National Committeeman Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth was attending a session of the committee in San Francisco, another Texas G.O.P. leader announced he has gone into the camp of General Dwight Eisenhower. Alvin Lane of Dallas, general counsel of the Republican party in Texas, left the Taft forces saying he thought Eisenhower was the man. Zweifel is backing Taft.

Plan to Devalue Peso Is Denied

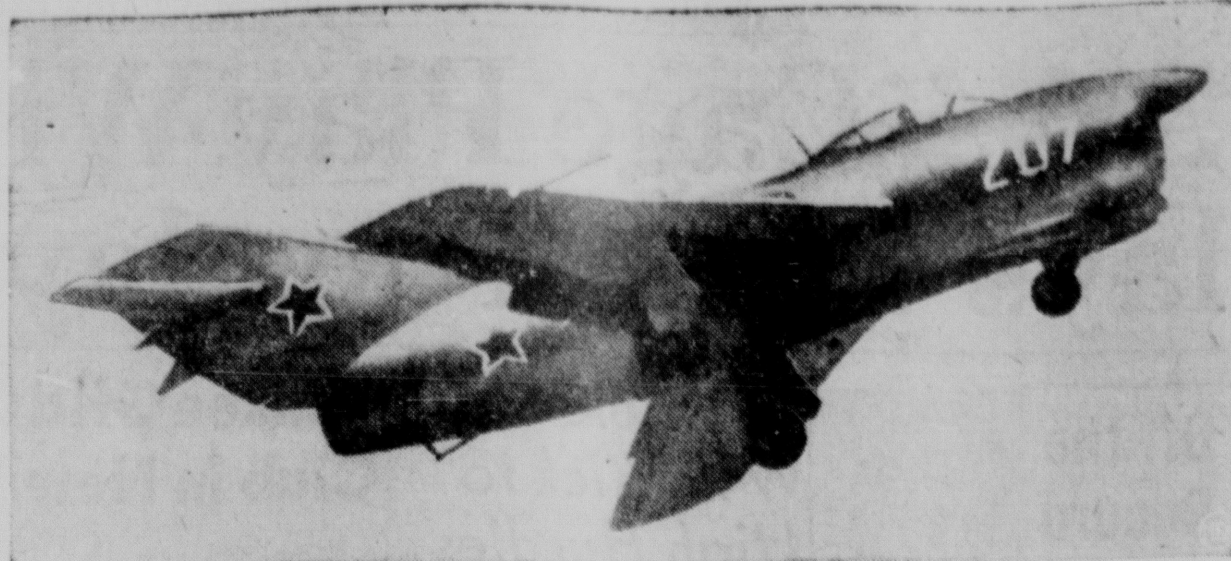

Mexico City, Jan. 19. (AP)—The head of the Bank of Mexico today scoffed at rumors the peso may be devalued.

Carlos Novoa, the bank's director general, said in an interview: "There is not the slightest reason for talk of devaluation. Mexican currency never has been firmer than at the present time."

Novoa reported that Mexican silver production fell off in 1951 to 42 million ounces. Mexico, the world's largest silver producer, usually smelts about 50 million ounces a year.

The production drop was due to high world prices, the bank head said. He explained that the apparent contradiction between high prices and lower production is normal in Mexico. High world prices make it profitable to work mines which produce low grade but which in turn yield less silver. These are closed down when prices drop, and richer deposits are worked.

Novoa said Mexico will continue her policy of coining silver for domestic use, as well as her sales abroad. He said domestic coinage last year used about 5.5 million ounces of silver. The national silver jewelry industry used another million ounces. Silver in bars was sold to Germany, France, and Guatemala, and was coined for Saudi Arabia.

The world silver market continues firm, Novoa said, adding that if high prices continue, Mexico's 1952 production may drop below last year's.

Egypt Criticizes Churchill Speech

Paris, Jan. 19. (AP)—An Egyptian spokesman said today that British Prime Minister Winston Churchill's invitation to U. S., French and Turkish troops to join in the defense of the Suez Canal "constitutes a new attack on the sovereignty of Egypt."

He said any such step would be "of a nature to compromise seriously the peace of the Mideast." The spokesman, Dr. Mahmoud Azmi Gey, told a news conference that if French, Turkish or American troops were moved into the Canal Zone the question probably would be taken to the UN Security Council.

He read a document entitled an "official communique" from the Egyptian delegation to the United Nations. It said Egypt is the natural guardian of the waterway which passes through its territory and that Britain was only trying to find a new pretext to maintain troops in Egypt.

The Egyptian statement was in reply to a comment by Prime Minister Churchill yesterday in his address to the U. S. Congress that the United States, France and Turkey should move token forces to the Suez area to stand beside the British there.

Churchill said the danger in Egypt was "no less great" than that prevailing in Korea.

Grand Jury Gets AF Assault Case

The Commissioner's action meant that he found "probable cause" that the alleged offense was committed.

MRS. RUTH A. MAXSON

Nurse Conference Set Here Tuesday

All young people interested in nursing as a career or even in investigating the advantages of a nursing education have been invited to meet Mrs. Ruth A. Maxson of the Baylor University School of Nursing in conferences at Vernon High School, Tuesday, Jan. 22.

Mrs. Maxson will be at Vernon High School Tuesday afternoon. Appointments with her should be made through the counsellors at the institution.

The current need for nurses in America, advantages of a nursing education, and the details of training for the profession will be explained by Mrs. Maxson in the conferences, it was said.

Baylor's unique professional nursing program, in which the student studies for a year on the Baylor co-educational campus at Waco and then takes two years of training in associate hospitals, will be outlined. The student gains a certificate as Registered Nurse at the end of the third year, and then can return to the Baylor campus for a year of study leading to the Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing. The degree program qualifies the nurse to meet the high standards of nursing programs.

Nursing is no longer a profession for women alone, Mrs. Maxson said. Several men students are enrolled in the classes now being taught at Waco.

Mrs. Maxson is a graduate of Mary Hardin-Baylor College, the University of Houston, and the Baylor School of Nursing. She had been educational director at Memorial Hospital in Houston and a school nurse for the Houston public school system before coming to Baylor.

PGA Tournament Group Votes to Amend Entry Rule

San Diego, Jan. 19 (AP)—The PGA tournament committee, in a move designed to aid Negro players to compete in its golf tournaments, voted overwhelmingly today to amend its rules.

Horton Smith, PGA president and a member of the tournament committee, said that a poll resulted in six members approving the new plan. The seventh, Dave Douglas, of Wilmington, Del., was not available by telephone. The change in the PGA setup will permit Negro amateurs and professionals to play in tournaments co-sponsored by the PGA, provided the local sponsor and the local club approve.

The move climaxed a series of controversies involving the racial issue, which came to a head here this week when Joe Louis, the ex-boxing champion who plays as an amateur, and Negro professional Bill Spiller of Los Angeles, were first denied entry in the $10,000 San Diego open.

Louis was later accepted as an invited guest but Spiller was refused permission to play because he is not a member of the PGA nor a PGA-accredited player.

L. T. Felty Named Coach At Waxahachie School

Waxahachie, Jan. 19 (AP)—L. T. Felty today was named head football coach and athletic director of Waxahachie High School.

He succeeds Logan Stollenwerck, who announced in November he would not ask the job for another year.

Felty coached at Jefferson in 1938, joined Stollenwerck's staff at Denison in 1939 and came here with Stollenwerck in 1940.

Anthony Eden Gives Report

London, Jan. 19 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden went to Sandringham castle tonight to report to the vacationing king on the results of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's Washington visit.

Bulletin

New York, Jan. 19 (AP)—Ted Collins, owner of the New York Yanks, sold his franchise and assets to the National Football League for $100,000 tonight. Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL said the franchise would be moved to Dallas, Texas. The buyer of the franchise from the league was not immediately disclosed.

Bell said in turn the league has made an agreement with Dan Topping, owner of the New York baseball Yankees, in which Topping agrees to cancel his Yankee Stadium lease with Collins for $200,000, payable at $25,000 a year for the next eight years.

Collins had a 10-year lease on the big ball park at $50,000 a year with eight years to run.

Lions Open 1AAA Cage Play With Win; Big Spring Plays Here Tuesday Night

Savitt, Sedgman Advance in Meet

Adelaide, Australia, Jan. 19 (AP)—Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., and most of the other favorites including Frank Sedgman advanced today in the Australian National tennis championships.

Savitt had no trouble capturing his second round match from Neil Fraser, a junior southpaw, while Sedgman brushed Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., only other American competing, right out of the tournament.

Both were straight set affairs, Savitt winning 6-1, 6-1, 6-2. Sedgman won by 6-4, 6-4, 6-0 from the American youngster.

Louise Suggs Leads Play In Tampa Golf Tourney

Tampa, Fla., Jan. 19 (AP)—Louise Suggs slipped over par today for the first time but clung to the three stroke lead at the three-quarter mark of the Tampa Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Thomas, Dye Pace Vernon Past Mustangs

Vernon, Lamesa and Midland all came through with opening night wins Friday as District 1-AAA cage play gets under way. Action will resume Tuesday night with Big Spring journeying to Vernon, Lamesa moving to Sweetwater and Midland traveling to Plainview.

Vernon dumped Sweetwater 45-33 in Vernon. Lamesa blasted Plainview 44-33 and Midland edged past Big Spring 33-32. Neither the Lions nor the Mustangs were at top strength for their tilt Friday night. Sweetwater played without the services of leading point-maker, Carl Anderson, and Vernon was weakened by a week-long bout with the flu.

Paced by Jerry Thomas, the Lions built up a 10-4 first quarter lead that the Mustangs could never overcome. Thomas flipped in eight points during the first quarter spree.

With Thomas still hitting, the Lions moved on to a 19-13 half-time lead.

Ailing Lester Dye took up the hot scoring pace in the final half, notching all of his 14 points in about 10 minutes before fouling out mid-way in the final period. The Lions led 35-22 at the end of three quarters.

Ramon Towry flipped in 10 points and Tull eight, while Thomas ended up with 13 points to take care of the Lions scoring.

Soph Harold Green topped both quintets with 17 points and teammate, Joe Smith, chimed in with 16 points to wrap up the Mustang scoring.

Don Stevens led the classy Lamesa five, pre-season favorites to cop the title, past a game, but outclassed Plainview quintet. Stevens notched 14 points while Rex Jordan hauled in 11 for Plainview.

A free shot in the final 80 seconds of play gave the Midland Bulldogs a surprise 33-32 win.

The Sweetwater B team had too much height and speed for a makeshift Vernon Bee team, winning 38-22. Coach Bob Percival held many of the regular Bee boys back for insurance in the varsity game.

Earl Stoner got eight points for the Bees.

Off the Record

By Bill Werley Sports Editor

Rumor has it that the coach of Kermit and Coach Tuttle of Crozier Tech (Dallas) are among the candidates remaining in the running for the Vernon head coach position.

The Kermit coach, who has compiled a fine record at that West Texas school, is also rumored to be a strong candidate for the job.

As we understand it, Bob Cox is also still in the running.

Bud Worsham, sports editor of the Sweetwater Reporter, was in town Friday night for the Lion-Mustang basketball game. Bud says that Lamesa is the team to beat in the 1-AAA race.

He says that Lamesa has the best team he has seen in action this year. Jerry Millsaps, one of the Lamesa cage stars, missed much of the first part of the practice season because of an injury. That accounts for their poor showing in practice tilts.

The Lions won't meet the Tornados until Jan. 31.

My nomination for the most improved player on the Lion squad goes to Lester Dye. His rugged floor work and eye for the basket have made him invaluable to the Lions this season.

It may interest you to know that Dye was playing under extreme handicaps Friday night. He had been ill with the flu all week and had not worked out on Thursday.

Yet he turned in a fine game, scoring 14 points for high point honors for the Lions.

One of the strangest occurrences in quite a while turned up after checking the scorebook after the Lion win over Sweetwater.

Two Mustang players—Joe Smith and Harold Green—scored all of the Sweetwater points. Green got 17 and Smith 16 for the 33-point total.

Other Longhorn League representatives seemed to be impressed with the signing of Chet Fowler to manage the Dusters.

"I thought the Dusters were just about out of the league because of finances," one man said. "Now, not only are they going to field a team, but have signed a top-flight manager to pilot that team."

Sweetwater, meanwhile, is now having all of the financial worries. The Swatter directors are trying to sell 715 season ticket books of 70 tickets each. The sale is progressing rather slowly, according to reports.

Golfer Ben Hogan Plans Not to Enter Phoenix Meet

Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 19 (AP)—Ben Hogan, golf's man of the year, will not compete in the $10,000 Phoenix Open, the tournament committee announced today.

It had been stated earlier that he would enter both the Open and the 18-hole Pro-Amateur event preceding it, but it was learned today he will not compete in either.

The Phoenix Open starts next Thursday.

Olympic Star Will Stick to High Hurdles

Philadelphia, Jan. 19 (AP)—Harrison Dillard, Olympic 100 meter champion, revealed today he would let his sprint title won at London go by default and concentrate instead on the 110-meter high hurdle race at Helsinki.

Age has caught up with him. So he will try to do with skill what he knows he cannot do with sheer speed. But probably the biggest obstacle to winning another Olympic gold medal is not age but a big world hurdle record holder—Dick Attlesy.

"It's a question of speed," Dillard said after winning the 50-yard high hurdles in sparkling form at the Philadelphia Inquirer games.

"You don't get any more speed at the age of 29. I can only run the 100 yards in 9.7. There are too many running it in 9.6. Maybe I could get down to 9.6, but what's the use?"

In 1948 Dillard tried to make the American Olympic team in both the 100 meters and the high hurdles. He was world high hurdle record holder then, but he lost his stride in the final American trial and pulled up helplessly at the sixth hurdle. He qualified in the sprint, and to the great surprise of the world won the 100 meter crown at London.

"I'm in fair shape now," said the slender Negro who works in the publicity department of the Cleveland Indian baseball team. "I don't think I can get back to my hurdle times of four years ago, but I can try. My ambition is to make the team for Helsinki."

U. S. Olympic Skiers Have Bad Day at Meet

Bad Gastein, Austria, Jan. 19 (AP)—U. S. men Olympic skiers could do no better than 17th place today in an International Slalom race in which Austrians captured the first three places.

In contrast to the U. S. women, who won first and third places yesterday, the men were completely outdistanced today and one of the aces of their team, Jack Reddish of Salt Lake City, was disqualified. Reddish fell and skidded off the course on his first run.

Pittsburgh Pirate Catcher Signs 1952 Contract Today

Pittsburgh, Jan. 19 (AP)—Catcher Clyde McCullough signed his 1952 contract today with the National League Pittsburgh Pirates. McCullough batted .294 last year, the best mark of his entire major league career. The only regular on the Pirate squad to top that mark was Ralph Kiner with .317.

The 33-year-old receiver played in 92 games. He hit eight home runs and batted in 26 runs.

Southwest Texas JC Withdraws From Cage Race

Uvalde, Jan. 19 (AP)—Southwest Texas Junior College has withdrawn from the South Texas Junior College Conference basketball race. This makes two teams that have quit the cage circuit. The other was Texas Southwest of Brownsville which gave financial reasons.

Five teams are left in the conference—Del Mar (Corpus Christi), Wharton, Victoria, Edinburg and Laredo.

Yankee Grid Owner to Keep Club in New York or Sell

New York, Jan. 19 (AP)—Ted Collins, owner of the harassed New York Yanks, said today he will keep his National Football League franchise in New York or sell the club outright.

"I have no intention of moving elsewhere," the radio-television producer announced as the league director pondered his demand for six satisfactory home dates in Yankee Stadium.

Dallas moved to the forefront tonight as a possible site for the National Football League franchise now held by the New York Yanks. A source close to league headquarters who declined use of his name said: "The Dallas situation is red-hot right now."

Baltimore and Buffalo also are said to be interested in regaining entry into big time professional football, but Commissioner Bert Bell said they had made no offer through his office.

A five-man Baltimore committee has discussed a deal with Collins, but George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, said he would not approve a Baltimore franchise under "present conditions."

Meanwhile, a battery of attorneys advised the league not to retreat in its television stand despite a pending anti-trust suit by the Government.

"Our television policy was drawn up with the help of Government lawyers," one of the league attorneys told directors in a closed session.

"We feel we are not violating the law. If the suit comes to trial we think we can beat it."

A Federal judge in Philadelphia last week denied a motion to dismiss the suit and ordered it to early trial. The suit also is likely to affect the stand of the nation's colleges, who recently voted to continue TV controls next fall.

The National Football League rules leave television policies to the individual clubs. None had live television at home last season but all except Chicago and New York, which support two teams, screened road games for home consumption.

The Government attitude, a league attorney said, is that the nation's fans are entitled to enjoy sports spectacles which they are unable to attend.

Someone asked if the Government cared whether such a move might cause the death of professional football.

"The Government is not interested whether the league folds or not," the attorney said, "nor is it interested in the economical impact of such a dissolution."

Waco, Jan. 19 (AP)—Coach George Sauer announced today that Baylor's spring football workouts will start Jan. 29 and end Feb. 22. During this 25-day period, the Bruins will have 18 supervised practice sessions, the new limit for Southwest conference teams.

State Coaches Of Year Will Be Honored

Dallas, Jan. 19 (AP)—Coaches of the year in Texas will be honored Jan. 30 at the annual sports achievement dinner of the Dallas YMCA.

Meyer, whose team won the Southwest Conference football championship, was picked by the Texas Sports Writers Association as senior coach of the year.

Bumgardner, whose team won the Pioneer Conference title, was picked as Junior College coach of the year.

Pattison, whose team won the Texas Class AAAA championship, was selected as high school coach of the year.

Ben Hogan, the famed golfer, was named Southwesterner of the year but isn't expected to be here for the dinner. He is now in California.

Meyer, Bumgardner and Pattison each will receive a plaque from Harold V. Ratliff of the Associated Press, president of the Texas Sports Writers Association.

Greenville Sports Editor Resigns

Greenville, Jan. 19 (AP) — Al Echols, sports editor of the Greenville Banner for six years, today resigned to become promotion and publicity director of the A. C. Gonzalez baseball interests.

Gonzalez owns the Greenville franchise in the Big State League and the Chickasha franchise of the Sooner State League. He also may operate Del Rio in the Longhorn League this season.

Echols is a baseball writer, covering Big State League games while Greenville was in that circuit and last year was baseball editor of the Associated Press in Texas.

Greenville dropped out of the Big State League last year but returns this season with Gonzalez transferring his franchise from Sherman-Demson to this city.

Quanah Ex-Gridders Hold Reunion With Ex-Coaches

Quanah, Jan. 19.—Members of Quanah High School Indian football teams from 1930 through 1936 held a reunion with the former coaches, Dan Stallworth of Baytown, Dan Salkeld of Amarillo and Joe Forrester of Ballinger, at a banquet held in the Pullman Cafe here Saturday night.

About 50 ex-Indians, who came from varied sections of the United States, were present for the get-together.

Brewer of Lubbock To Get Outstanding Athlete Award

Dallas, Jan. 19 (AP)—Charles Brewer, T quarterback of Lubbock's state championship West-erners, today was selected as the outstanding high school football player in Texas for 1951.

Brewer won the honor in a poll of the Texas Sports Writers Association. He will be a guest at the annual University of Houston football banquet Feb. 1.

The Lubbock quarterback beat out Kevin Lounsberry, Baytown's great fullback, by two votes. Third was James Side, Lubbock full-back, while Doyle Traylor, Temple quarterback; Johnny Tatum, Lubbock center; and Delano Womack, Austin halfback, tied for fourth.

Nineteen boys received votes—the greatest representation in the five years that the poll has been conducted.

This award was started in 1947 when Byron Townsend of Odessa was selected. James Garner of Amarillo won the honor in 1948. Jerry Fouts of Wichita Falls in 1949 and Ed Bernet of Highland Park (Dallas) in 1950.

The University of Houston Ex-students Association sponsors the banquet and pays the expenses of the players selected.

Principal speaker at the banquet this year will be Morris Frank, Houston Chronicle columnist and humorist.

Brewer, a senior, was picked as the top schoolboy footballer although he did not make the all-state team in Class AAAA, the division in which Lubbock won the state title. The 160-pound quarterback wound up on the second all-state team. Lounsberry, also a senior, made the first all-state.

Here were the results of the poll:

Charles Brewer, Lubbock, 9.
Kevin Lounsberry, Baytown, 7.
James Side, Lubbock, 6.
Delano Womack, Austin, 4.
Johnny Tatum, Lubbock, 4.

PGA Tourney Is Scheduled For El Paso

El Paso, Jan. 19 (AP)—It has been 23 years, and it has required some 11 years of background preparation, but El Paso returns to the PGA tournament trail next month. The occasion is the El Paso Open golf tournament, scheduled for El Paso Country Club Feb. 7-10.

The old heads among the touring professionals who played in the last El Paso Open, in 1929, will scarcely recognize the layout.

The 1929 tournament was played over greens made of cottonseed hulls, which were deceptive to the best of players.

Horton Smith, president of the PGA who played the final round of the 1929 tournament with Wild Bill Mehlnhorn, the winner, recalled on a recent visit here that Mehlnhorn had his troubles.

"There was one three-par hole that gave Bill real trouble on that last round," he recalled. "He couldn't figure the speed of the green and three-putted, winding up with a five."

But Mehlnhorn had no trouble on the other holes. His winning score was 272, establishing a PGA 72-hole competitive record which withstood assaults for several years.

Coach at Lamesa Inks 3-Year Pact

Lamesa, Jan. 19.—O. W. Follis has signed a new three-year contract as head coach of Lamesa High School. Follis came to Lamesa as an assistant coach in 1946.

Follis' assistants, Russell Coffee, Everett Martin and Jack Wetzel, have each inked two-year pacts to continue as aides.

Follis coaches both the football and basketball teams at Lamesa. He replaced Bob Harrell as head coach in 1951 and guided the Tornados to six wins and four defeats.

New Oil Wells Completed at Record Rate

Austin, Jan. 19. (AP)—Completion of oil wells at record-breaking rates continued this week. The Texas Railroad Commission reported 238 new wells brought in, only four less than last week.

The year's total jumped to 681 compared with 587 in the first three weeks of last year.

Gas well completions still lagged, 18 for the week sending the year's total to 49 compared with 61 a year ago.

The Commission reported 140 dry holes against 128 last week.

Wildcat exploration brought in 26 oil wells, one gasser, and 97 dry holes, closely paralleling last week's record of 22, 2, and 83, respectively.

There were 137 dry wells plugged, as were four gassers and 24 oil wells.

The total number of oil wells in Texas jumped 279 to total 133,124 as of today.

The total average calendar day crude oil allowable was 2,957,991 barrels, up 18,255 barrels per day from a week ago.

Stassen Studying State Primaries

San Francisco, Jan. 19. (AP)—Harold E. Stassen announced today he would enter the Nebraska primary and was seriously considering the California, New Hampshire and Oregon primaries in his bid for the Republican presidential nomination.

The former Minnesota Governor said he had a "high regard" for Gov. Earl Warren of California — another aspirant. But Stassen said he would carry the issues to the people and "let them decide."

Stassen told a press conference he would decide by the end of February on the California primary. The decision will be based on whether his campaign can afford it, if there are any issues, and on how many other tough primaries he was committed to, he explained.

Southwestern University Slates Business Lectures

Georgetown, Texas, Jan. 19. (AP)—Four Texas businessmen will come here Tuesday to explain, and defend if necessary, the "free enterprise" system.

Their audience will be about 400 Southwestern University undergraduates.

The "college town hall" session in the university's main auditorium is one of a series being sponsored on university campuses by the Texas Manufacturers Association.

There will be no speeches. The businessmen will answer questions, of which college students usually have plenty.

Ed C. Burris of Houston, TMA executive vice president, said the panel members are firm believers in the free enterprise system.

"Free enterprise has a story to tell, and it certainly behooves those who have profited under it to try to tell that story," he advised school officials. "We hear repeated statements that individual enterprise can no longer meet the needs of the United States. The four businessmen who will appear at Southwestern University believe otherwise, and they welcome the opportunity to discuss this issue with the students, no hold barred."

Panel members are C. C. Welhausen, president of Tex Tan, Yoakum; Clark Barrett, assistant manager, E. I. Du Pont de Nemours & Co., Orange; and E. F. Graham, vice president, Southwestern Gas and Electric Co., Marshall. William W. Boddie, director of public relations, Texas Manufacturers Association, will be moderator.

Marihuana Cache Seized by Agents

Brownsville, Jan. 19. (AP)—The U. S. customs agency service, announced the arrest at 3 a.m. today in downtown McAllen of two men and the seizure of 88 pounds of crude marihuana.

The marihuana was valued at $164,000. It was found in four burlap sacks in the trunk compartment of a car and inside the glove compartment. Two revolvers were seized also.

The two men were armed and offered no resistance. They were arrested after several weeks of investigation.

They are being held in the Hidalgo County jail. One is a United States citizen and the other a Mexican National.

The seizure was the second largest within 40 days in this area. On Dec. 11, 171 pounds were seized near Alamo.

Tidelands Controversy To Be Carried to People

Austin, Jan. 19. (AP)—A grass-roots campaign will seek contributions of $1 or more to carry facts of the tidelands controversy to the people of the nation. M. K. Weitzel, secretary of the State-wide Tidelands Committee, said today.

The campaign will be concentrated during February which has been designated by Gov. Allan Shivers as Tidelands Defense Month, he said.

Employment Commission Lists '51 Job Placements

Austin, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Texas Employment Commission placed 110,500 more workers on jobs last year than in the year previous.

A year-end report of the job-finding agency tallied total 1951 placements at 595,482, compared to 448,980. Both figures were exclusive of farm jobs.

Air Force Reveals Plans To Inventory Reservists

Austin, Jan. 19. (AP)—The Air Force announced plans today to inventory its reservists throughout Texas.

Col. Edgar E. Glenn, commanding officer of the Third Air Reserve District, said completion of survey in Dallas, Fort Worth, Lubbock and Austin proved the merit of projecting the plan to a state-wide basis.

Surveys will be started in Houston and San Antonio Feb. 4, he said. Upon completion of projects there, personnel will move to other Texas areas.

Colonel Glenn said purpose of the personal interviews of each reservist was to give the Air Force up-to-date data on its reserve potential and to tell the reservist where he stands in the present reserve program.

In Houston, the new ORC armory at 1850 Old Spanish Trail will be headquarters for the survey. In San Antonio, reservists will be interviewed at Brooks Air Force Base's 2224th Personnel Processing Center.

Judicial Council Names Secretary

Austin, Jan. 19. (AP)—Assistant Attorney General Dow H. Heard today was named secretary of the Texas Civil Judicial Council.

He succeeds O. M. Stubblefield of Dallas, who resigned following 10 years service. Heard, from Waco, is serving in the oil and gas division of the attorney general's department.

The appointment was announced by council president Leon Jaworski of Houston. The council is a research group created by the Legislature to make a continuous study of civil court matters.

The U. S. Army is resuming its formal training of dogs for military use for the first time since World War II.

MOVIE-GOERS ARE SEARCHED

Saigon, Indochina, (AP)—Movie-goers here who look suspicious or are non-European are now searched by attendants as they enter movie houses.

This is done because it used to be a favorite trick of terrorists to hurl a grenade or other explosive into crowds just entering or leaving a theater. There were also explosions inside the theaters themselves.

Give Hamburger An Italian Twist

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
Give hamburger a new twist and use it Italian-style in making lasagne-macaroni in wide ribbon shapes. This makes a hearty supper dish that needs only crisp hard rolls and a green salad to accompany it. For dessert you might serve a seasonal dish of jellied oranges and apples.

LASAGNE ROLLS

Ingredients: 4 tablespoons olive oil, 1 pound lasagne, 2 cloves garlic (minced), 1/2 pound mushrooms (sliced), 1/2 pound Italian sausage, 4 chicken livers (chopped), 1 pound hamburger, 2 eggs, 3 eight-ounce cans ragu sauce, 1/2 teaspoon salt, dash pepper, one 2 1/2-ounce jar Parmesan cheese.

Method: Put 6 quarts boiling salted water and 1 tablespoon oil in large kettle; add lasagne, one at a time, to prevent them from sticking together. Cook 20 minutes. Rinse with cold water; drain. Saute garlic and mushrooms in 2 tablespoons oil about 3 minutes, or until brown. Remove sausage meat from casing. Add to mushroom mixture the remaining oil, chicken livers, hamburger, and sausage; break meat into small pieces with fork and stir until brown. Beat eggs; add 6 tablespoons ragu sauce, salt, pepper, 2 tablespoons cheese, and meat mixture. Mix well. Place 1 lasagne ribbon on flat platter; spread with thin layer of meat mixture. Roll up jelly-roll fashion; stand up in baking dish, continue until all are used. Cover with remaining ragu sauce and sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake in moderate (350F.) oven 20 minutes. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Note: The ragu sauce called for has a tomato paste base combined with beef, cheese, and spice.

LAYER FRUIT SALAD

Ingredients: 2 packages lemon-flavored gelatin, 4 cups hot water, 1 1/2 cups canned drained orange sections, 4 maraschino cherries, 2 cups diced unpeeled apple.

Method: Dissolve gelatin in hot water in a 1 1/2-quart heat-resistant glass bowl. Allow to cool. Add orange sections and cherries; these will sink. Then add diced apple; this will float. Chill in refrigerator about 3 hours or until firm. Makes 8 servings.

"Finest Man in Texas"

Huntsville, Jan. 19 (AP)—C. L. Chandler of Huntsville has never met Albert H. Halff, Dallas, but is sure Halff is the "finest man in Texas."

Chandler, elementary principal for public schools here, returned to his parked car this week and found someone had dented a fender. As he got in to drive off, he saw Halff's card with this note:

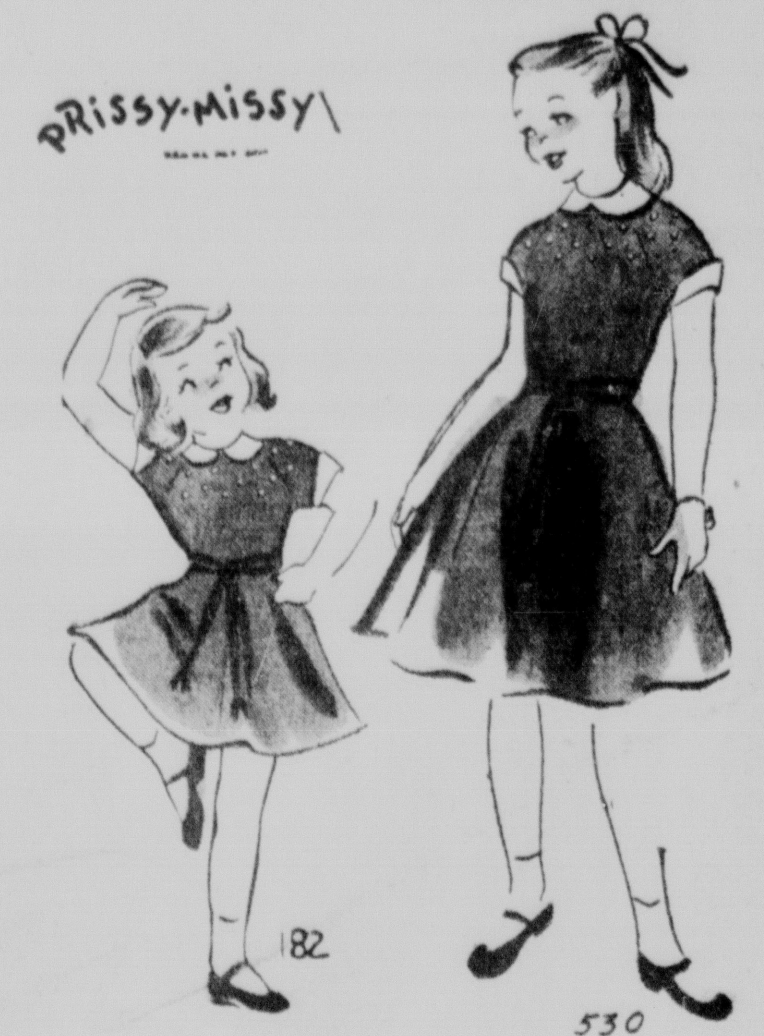

"I bumped your left rear fender. Please send me the bill."

Chandler was so pleased he will send Halff a note of appreciation, but no bill.

To make enough cream sauce for a quarter pound of dried beef you'll need two cups of milk mixed with a quarter cup of butter or margarine that has been blended with a quarter cup of flour. This makes a medium-thick sauce. If you like a sauce that's a little thinner, add a quarter cup more milk.

Study of County Soils To Determine Measures Needed to Keep Fertility

Farmers can expect to learn shortly the measures necessary and the dollar cost required to keep the productivity of Wilbarger County's 270,847 acres of cultivated land on an even keel.

A study of the basic soil needs of the different varieties and types of Wilbarger County land was the purpose here this week of a joint Soil Conservation Service and County Mobilization Committee meeting.

The soils survey session, headed by Ward Taylor, district field officer for the Production and Marketing Administration, and Ralph Schwartz of Abilene, soils survey supervisor, is part of a state-wide movement to determine the minimum soil practices necessary to maintain, or possibly slightly improve, the current level of fertility of farm soils.

Similar surveys, which started last fall, are being conducted in every county. Meetings in Foard, Hardeman and Cottle counties were to follow the session here Wednesday. Completion of all the work, giving the U. S. Department of Agriculture relatively accurate figures on what is needed to keep productivity up on all its farms, is expected sometime in June.

T. L. McBride, local PMA administrator, says however, that a summary of the results of the survey meeting here, should be available within the next week or so.

It will give a breakdown in the number of acres of various type soils—taking into consideration slope of the land, permeability, depth and consistency—and show the recommendations for maintenance of fertility at a constant level.

In preparing the survey and recommendations, maps provided by the local soil conservation service and existing data on soil types were utilized.

Mr. Taylor explains the program this way:

All the land in the county is classified according to type and texture. With this known, experience of soil scientists reveals the quality and type of practices needed. Dollar needs of the farmers are then easily arrived at after this is determined.

The figures, together with the data by which it was ascertained, will probably play an important part in future government appropriations for soil conservation in the county and state, and in the aid which farmers receive.

Also in conjunction with the survey meeting here, members of the local soil conservation service staff, staged demonstrations with various types of soils to show how improper soil conditions could be remedied.

Similar demonstrations were staged in surrounding counties by the SCS at survey meetings there.

Members of the mobilization committee, who have worked in co-operation with SCS and PMA officials in preparing the county survey are A. J. Duffie, A. L. Bell, O. L. Cook, G. A. Shivers, A. M. Bourland, Francis Todd, J. D. Daughtrey and Frank Wendt.

Soil Conservation Service personnel who helped with the survey and demonstrations were Wayne Cobb and Frank Duncan, soil scientist. Both are Vernon residents and work out of the local SCS office.

Wheat Fields of Area Hit By Cutworm Infestation

Possibility of a wide-spread infestation of cutworms in the wheat fields of the area was revealed this week by George T. Davis, Jr., extension service entomologist.

Mr. Davis returned Friday from a tour of the five-county area he serves as entomologist and issued, together with County Agent Frank Wendt, the following report:

"Cutworms have recently been found to be heavily infesting some fields of wheat while other fields have few or no worms to be found in them. The worms are apparently very spotted. Several fields just west of Burkburnett, and a few others over Wilbarger County have been severely damaged by this pest. From the way these infestations are showing up, it is quite possible that this pest is spread over a large area.

"Many of these worms are so small they are very hard to see; therefore, if you have noticed your stand of wheat disappearing, look closely for these worms. Cutworms usually stay in the soil during the day time and come out to feed at night. Sometimes on cloudy days they will continue to stay above ground and eat. The best way then to look for these worms is, to find a spot where something has been clipping off the wheat and scratch around in the soil there a little. You should readily uncover the worms, if that is what is causing the damage.

"The eggs of this particular pest are laid in the Fall of the year. They soon hatch and the entire winter is spent in the worm stage. These worms will feed during warm spells throughout the winter, and when the cold spells come they will burrow deeper into the soil. In the Spring and early Summer, as these worms reach maturity, they will burrow several inches under the soil and then enter the pupal or inactive stage of their life cycle. This resting stage will last from one to eight weeks, usually. The adult, or moth, will then emerge and soon begin to lay eggs for the next generation. These moths may lay up to 1,000 eggs each.

Controls

"Cultural practices that may be used to help keep these worms down include Summer fallowing, and clean cultivation practices.

"Chemical controls that may be used effectively are:

1. One to one and a half pounds DDT per acre as a spray (same as two to three quarts of two pound per gallon DDT.)
2. One and a half to two pounds toxaphene per acre as a spray (Same as one to one and a half quarts of the 6-pound per gallon toxaphene.)

"Be sure that cutworms are getting the wheat and not grubworms before you spray. Many fields are being damaged by the regular white grubworms and they can't be controlled with these chemicals."

Gov. Shivers Designates "Youth Week" in Texas

Austin, Jan. 19. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers today designated Jan. 27-Feb. 3 as Youth Week in Texas.

It is coincident with a national call sponsored by the United Christian Youth Movement seeking to enlist one million young people in the cause of Christ during the one-week period.

"In these crucial times we need young people who are willing to act upon their religious convictions," the Governor said.

UCYM is the youth agency of the National Council of Churches of Christ in America.

'Ozark' Emblems Arouse State Ire

Little Rock, Ark., Jan. 19. (AP)—Arkansas, the Wonder State, is wondering whether a barefoot mountaineer, a jug of liquor and a razorback hog are complimentary symbols of the State.

First impression is they are not. And Eugene Newsom, State publicity director, has written a letter of protest to the St. Louis manufacturing firm that distributes auto tourist stickers carrying that design.

Newsom's protest followed a complaint addressed to his office by Rep. E. C. Gathings, who found the sticker a slur against the State and depressive to him.

"We think this sort of thing is not only discriminatory against a great State and a great people," says Newsom in his protest, "but we think it is entirely out of line with Arkansas of 1952, or any other State for that matter."

It doesn't look like the design will be changed soon, however. An official of the company explains that just a few days ago presses

DEMONSTRATE EFFECT OF EROSION ON LAND—Soil Conservation Service soil scientists Frank Duncan, left, and Wayne Cobb set up a visual aids demonstration to show the "whys" of conservation and the needs for conservation practices. This demonstration was one of several set up by the SCS at the soil needs meeting here during the week. It shows graphically the effects of water erosion on various types of soil. At left, leaning against the wall, are "soil profiles" showing type and texture of land. Such soil profiles have been prepared by the SCS on almost every major soil type in the five-county area served by the local SCS office.

rolled out about 6,000 or 7,000 of the stickers. And the company doesn't intend to be stuck with them.

Planned Farming Pays Off for Couple

FHA Praised For Help in Buying Farm

Twelve years of planned farming has paid off for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Skipworth, who reside 14 miles northwest of Vernon in Wilbarger County.

On March 23, 1939, Mr. and Mrs. Skipworth closed a loan agreement with the Farmers' Home Administration to purchase a 150-acre tract. Recently they paid off this loan and now are sole owners of the farm.

Mr. Skipworth credits the FHA with making possible the ownership of the farm.

"I don't see how we could have managed to purchase a farm without the splendid help and co-operation of the FHA," Mr. Skipworth said. "It has certainly proved to be a worthwhile organization as far as my family is concerned."

The original cost of the farm in 1939 was $9,053. Then the improvements were very bad. The house was in very poor condition and a barn was needed.

Today, there is a modern farm home and other improvements that make the Skipworth farm truly an up-to-date agricultural unit.

The entire loan and other improvements were paid for by the farm itself. It was an unsupplemented agricultural income that allowed Mr. Skipworth to become owner of a farm instead of still a renter.

The Skipworth family moved to Wilbarger County in 1921. They have two children, Fowler Joe, 24, and Mrs. Ed Lampe, 26. Both of the children are married and live away from the farm home.

Mr. Skipworth has 128 acres in cultivation, including cotton, alfalfa and grain sorghums. He follows the diversified method of farming and uses the alfalfa mostly for a soil builder.

Mrs. Skipworth is very proud of her chickens and other livestock and the fact that a home garden project provides an average of 250 quarts of home-canned goods during the year.

Mr. Skipworth also has a number of head of beef cattle, making the farm a truly self-supporting unit.

The portly, gray-haired farmer was raised on a farm in Grayson County. He and Mrs. Skipworth have been married for 27 years and farming has played a major role in their lives and in the raising of a family.

The Skipworths lived for 13 years on the same farm—a rented place. Then suddenly, the owner decided that he no longer desired to rent the place, but would farm it himself.

"It was this that made me realize that self-ownership of a farm was a mighty important thing," Mr. Skipworth said. "That one incident did more than anything to influence me in the purchase of my own place."

Times have changed considerably since that March day in 1939 when Mr. Skipworth purchased his farm. Then the loan limit was $6,000—now it is $22,000. Now the only funds available are for World War II veterans, the FHA has stated. Mr. Skipworth paid $9,053 for the farm in 1939. Recently he was offered $160 per acre or a total of $24,000—or an increase in his original investment of almost $15,000 in just 12 years.

There have been 16 farm loans in the county since 1939—the year the program was started here. Mr. Skipworth was the fifth person to pay off his loan from strictly an agricultural income. Others have been fortunate enough to secure oil leases, royalties or refinanced their loans.

The Wilbarger County supervisor for the Farm Home Administration is Jewel Daughtrey. His office is located on the second floor of the courthouse in Vernon.

On Dec. 10 of last year another person paid off a loan that was granted in 1940. He is Jewel Foster of Route 2, Vernon.

Mr. Foster made his FHA loan of $8,498 on Jan. 10, 1940. He paid the loan in full on Dec. 10, 1951.

Phone Co-Ops To Meet in Lubbock

A meeting for "exchange of ideas and discussion of mutual problems" has been called for 10 a.m. on Jan. 25 in Lubbock for rural telephone cooperatives within the state.

The session will feature such speakers as G. D. Force, REA Field Representative from Brownwood, and Hugh B. O'Hara, assistant head of applications and loans division of the REA in the South Plains Electric Co-op, will serve as host for the meeting. Representatives from all phone co-ops in the state are expected to be present.

Currently there are 39 co-ops. Only nine of them up to this point, including Santa Rosa Co-op of Vernon, have received Federal approval.

Outstanding 4-H Members To Be Honored

Some 29 4-H club boys and girls, out of a total of more than 500 members in Wilbarger County, will be honored at a special county 4-H Club Awards banquet, Jan. 26. It was announced here Saturday.

County Home Demonstration Agent Joy Riley has revealed that 16 girls will receive awards for achievements in club work during 1951. Similar awards will go to 13 of County Agent Frank Wendt's club boys.

Public announcement of the names of those to be honored will be withheld until banquet time at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in the Canton Cafe.

Those to be honored were selected by a panel of impartial judges. It was said. All club members were judged on records submitted during the past year.

Disease Outbreak Hits Area Cattle

Nocona, Jan. 19. (AP)—Death of two cows on a Montague County ranch near here from the dread livestock disease—Anthrax—has added to the concern of area cattlemen, brought about by the revelation that the disease has been discovered near Wichita Falls recently.

Specimens sent to the Livestock Sanitary Commission in Fort Worth revealed definitely that the deaths had been the result of anthrax and an unofficial quarantine has been slapped on the ranch.

Earlier in the week it had been reported that a cow on one of the larger ranches near Wichita Falls, touching Wichita, Archer and Clay counties, had died from the disease, which once wiped out vast herds of cattle. Anthrax is described as a highly infectious and usually fatal disease of animals. It is characterized by ulcerations of the skin and enlargement of the spleen. Several cases have been reported in Oklahoma during recent months, one of which was located near Waurika.

APPROPRIATING MONEY WITH AN EYE ON ELECTIONS

The House of Representatives has approved a bill increasing the pay of all men in the armed services. The increase is a straight ten per cent for everybody, from buck privates to five-star generals, from gobs to fleet admirals. The measure went through by a thumping majority. Only 89 Representatives were willing to gamble their political careers on voting against a measure of such widespread appeal.

It is estimated that the taxpayers will be called to increase their outlay by $832 million annually. Recruits would receive $82.50 as against the figure of $75 now. Top ranking generals and admirals would receive $1,261 per month. In addition of course, the usual allowances would be continued.

What the Senate will do with the measure remains to be seen, but with at least one-third of the Senators facing election it is a safe bet that if the bill ever gets to a vote it will pass. The manner in which the measure came before the House is evidence of the pressure back of it. This year there are signs that anything can happen. Nobody knows whether it is a Republican year or a Democratic year, but Congressmen know that there are plenty of votes among the service men and their families. So the wage increase goes through without hearings and virtually without debate.

Much of the argument for wage increases to most people who receive wages and salaries does not apply to armed service personnel. High cost of living is not a factor in the budget of a GI. The Government provides his board, clothing, medical care and other necessities. The price of food and clothing is not one of his worries. And officers don't have too much reason to think about inflation.

But unless this bill gets sidetracked in committee in the Senate it is certain to pass.

MR. VISHINSKY MAY BE RIGHT FOR ONCE

For once Comrade Andrei Y. Vishinsky was very likely calling the shots right when he told the United Nations Assembly in Paris there is no hope for the success of the truce talks now in progress in Panmunjon. The parleys started the first of July last year. Except for two or three short interruptions they have been continuing since that time. But apparently there is as little reason to hope for an agreement now as there was at the beginning.

It is true concessions have been made on both sides, but apparently the Reds hold out for some point of view until a deadlock develops with nothing left to do except to break off the negotiations and then they will appear to yield. This gives the truce talks a new lease on life, hopeful announcements will be published in American newspapers and the negotiations will proceed until another deadlock appears imminent.

It is debatable whether any real progress has been made in the six months of talk between representatives of the opposing forces. At any rate, there is no indication that the Reds will recede from their position that they must be permitted to rebuild landing fields during an armistice. They are equally adamant on certain parts of the plan to exchange prisoners. They want all Communist soldiers returned to North Korea even though the soldiers themselves might object. Reason for that demand is obvious. They want to get their hands on any of their men who may have concluded that they don't want to fight for Russia any more.

Many people in this country are naturally becoming impatient. They are demanding that we serve an ultimatum by stating the final terms and give the Reds a specified number of days to agree or face an all-out attack with no restrictions as to targets and objectives. That might be the way to get an agreement. It might also be the way to start a world war.

Pulling out your watch to see what time it is won't stop a speaker nowadays. You got to shake the thing like you don't believe it's running.

In the final analysis everyone is ignorant. Only the subjects differ.

When your outgo exceeds your income your upkeep is your downfall.

Jumping to conclusions doesn't always end in happy landings.

Kingsville Names Manager For City for First Time

Kingsville, Jan. 19. (AP)—Gordon C. Medders of Tyler will become Kingsville city manager Feb. 1 at an annual salary of $7,200.

The City Council announced his appointment today.

Medders is now with a consulting engineering firm. He served as city manager for Weimar in 1939-45 and for Burnet in 1945-50. Hiring of a city manager was authorized by a charter election in December.

Fair Play for Baby and Sitter

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Parents should cooperate with their baby sitters if they want them to do a good job and if they want their babies to remain content and unafraid while they are out.

All too often, says the National Kindergarten Association, parents think their messes must be cleaned up by the baby sitter. The house to avoid baby crying when he sees them leave.

One mother, for example, had the baby sitter take the child into the back yard while she slipped out the front door to go to a luncheon. When the baby and sitter came back into the house, the baby ran from room to room looking for her. He kept calling her name, becoming more and more disappointed at not finding her. When he realized at last that his mother wasn't there, he cried so hard that he couldn't enjoy his lunch. The baby sitter tried to divert his attention, and was as quiet and gentle with him as she could be, but she couldn't comfort him. He finally sobbed himself to sleep.

Of course, not all mothers are like this. Most baby sitters fer-

Dr. Logan's Wife

By Diana Gaines

THE STORY: Jennet Logan, young wife of the old and failing Dr. Gus Logan, finds her unusually well-ordered life upset because of her attraction to the charming young biophysicist Peter Surinov. Peter has made enemies, including Maxwell Cota, layman head of the hospital, and won friends including Dr. Logan and Dr. Walter Pelletier by his activities in the hospital and outside. Peter has led a movement for better housing and Cota has large holdings in the slums. Cota seizes upon Peter's campaign against the slums with the intent to use it as a means of Russian extraction, in a Communist. However, Dr. Logan and Pelletier support Peter at a meeting at which this is discussed.

XVI
JENNET heard Gus's slow foot-fall on the stairs. At the door of her bedroom, he called softly, "Not asleep yet, are you, honey? I saw your light go out." "You're not supposed to climb the stairs," she admonished. "I took them slowly. Once in a while doesn't matter." She slid up on an elbow and turned on the lamp. She squeezed her eyes a couple of times at the light. Gus bent to kiss her on the forehead, smoothed her long hair with his hand. She sat up and moved her legs to make room for him.

"What happened at the meeting?" Jennet asked. "What did they decide?" "Nothing yet. Walter and I fought for Surinov and a couple of men chimed in on our side. The decision is postponed till Thursday night. They've called a special meeting. I'm getting sick of these meetings. I'll tell you that." He looked hard at her. "You all right, Jen? You look awfully pale." She leaned her head back against the bed and wet her lips.

vently hope though that they had more parents who understood just how to prepare junior for a baby sitter.

Mrs. X is an example of a mother baby sitters like. For example:

When Mrs. X called a baby sitter for the first time she asked her to stay with her child all of one Saturday afternoon and evening. Not only did she want to become acquainted with her new baby sitter but she wanted the child to learn to know her, too.

The baby was playing in a sand box when the baby sitter arrived. Mrs. X took her out and presented the child to her just as if they were both grownups. She explained to junior:

"Baby Sitter is going to stay with you today while Mother goes to town to meet Daddy to see about some chairs. I want you, please, to take Baby Sitter into the house and show her where you sleep."

The two-year-old child took Baby Sitter's hand and led her in to show her his bed and toys. In the meantime his mother placed some food for them in the refrigerator where it could be found easily. Mrs. X told Baby Sitter at what time junior was in the habit of taking his nap and going to bed and where his picture books are kept. She even laid out some good magazines that Baby Sitter could read after junior had gone to sleep.

"I think I ate something that disagreed with me." "What'd you eat at the Club? Oh, brook trout. You shouldn't order fish at the Club. I shouldn't have let you." "It wasn't that. The cabbage, more likely. I'll sleep it off. Maybe I got overtired. I met Peter Surinov after I left you. I went to a lecture with him—on public housing. It was sort of horrible."

GUS'S mouth pursed with troubled sweetness and the V appeared over his nose. "Say, that Surinov is getting to be an ubiquitous character. How come you were interested in public housing—or was Surinov the attraction?" Jennet turned her head away. She didn't smile to his teasing, and Gus's voice sharpened. "What was horrible about it?" "Everything. The description of the slums—rats and uncollected garbage and no toilets—ugh." "Nobody was forcing you. Why didn't you leave?" "I did," Jennet said, near tears. "I did. I left while the meeting was still going on. Peter was leading the question period and I just picked up and walked out." "Peter," Gus ruminated. "Does he call you Jennet?" "Frankly, I never noticed. I don't think he calls me anything at all," Jennet said irritably. "Gus, please stop being silly and get me a pill or something. I'm nauseated."

Gus observed the dark lashes that quivered on the bloodless cheeks. A faint blue vein showed under the transparent skin and he put his hand over it. "You'll be okay, honey. Say, you didn't mention anything about the meeting tonight to Surinov, did you?" Jennet's eyelids flew up like snapped window shades. "No, why?" "Well, it's confidential, that's all. It wouldn't do him any good to tell him what's going on. It might even do him harm. He could cook his own goose faster than anyone could cook it for him." "Well, I didn't say anything. You know I wouldn't reveal your confidences." She reached for his hand. "Gus, isn't it terrible the way some people have to live?" Gus sighed. He was no more willing to go into the state of the world and the nature of man now with Jennet than he had been with Pelletier. "The world is full of injustices, my dear. You and I can't reform the world." "But we're so lucky. We ought to do something." "In a small way, I do my share. I spend a third of my time treating free patients." "What about me? I do nothing." "You're giving your services at the clinic," he reminded her. "It's not enough. We have so much. I should have given some money tonight. I meant to but all of a sudden I couldn't take it any more. I ran out. I should have stayed. I should have given five or ten dollars." Unconsciously, she quoted Peter: "Who am I to run from the sound of unpleasantness. Some people are living it, not just hearing about it."

ALTHOUGH Gus was not a close-fisted man, there was something distinctly irksome to him in his wife's regret over not having given away a portion of his money. "I wish you wouldn't work yourself up like this, Jennet. You can mail a check in the morning. I don't mind your making a contribution, but I hope you realize it's only conscience balm."

"If everyone gave five dollars or so . . ."

"The 'if everyone' argument is for children: If everyone shouted in the halls, if everyone scraped their chalk. The point is everyone never does. Ever seen women at a bargain counter? Ever seen people around a smorgasbord table? A sight more revealing than we'd like to believe."

Father Carries Young Heir To Belgium in Sudden Move

Brussels, Belgium, Jan. 19. (AP)—Young Tommy Manville du Monceau, heir to a Belgian title and an American fortune, settled down with his father's family somewhere in Belgium today after a trans-Atlantic flight his mother tried in vain to halt.

Count Yvan du Monceau de Bergendal, 38, Belgian military and air attaché in Washington, flew home from Montreal with his 14-month-old son, pawn in a family feud with diplomatic overtones.

The count's mother accompanied them. His estranged wife, Lorraine, 23, niece of the off-married Tommy Manville and heiress to asbestos millions, re-entered Doctors' Hospital in New York. She was the loser in a bitter race begun last Monday when she was convalescing from a breast tumor operation Jan. 2.

She was too distraught to register at the hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Lorraine Manville Dresselhuys, signed in for her.

From New York to Washington, back to New York and on to Montreal, the young countess had followed the trail, only to find the count was winning by an ocean's breadth.

"He's a trickster," she sobbed. "I never thought he'd run away like this."

The count, who holds diplomatic privileges, dodged the usual customs formalities at the Brussels Airport. He and his party entered a waiting motor car and drove off immediately.

He could not be reached at his Brussels home, leading to a belief that the boy had been taken to one of the family residences in the provinces. The du Monceau clan is a large one.

A declaration in New York by Tommy Manville that it looks like an "international ransom case" drew a denial from the count's New York lawyer, J. Arthur Leve.

"There is nothing at that international ransom talk; it is not a question of money," Leve said. "The count is well fixed himself and perfectly able to provide for his son and bring him up."

Leve said the count plans to leave Tommy with his parents for rearing in Belgium, where he will inherit the count's title. The count, he said, plans to return to the United States "shortly." He said no divorce, separation or custody papers can be served on the count while he is in diplomatic service.

The countess and her son had been living recently at her mother's Long Island estate, while the count lived at the Belgian Embassy in Washington. She contended that he whisked Tommy away after getting her permission to take the child for a visit with the count's mother in New York.

92 ALIENS DEPORTED

New York, Jan. 19. (AP)—Ninety-two aliens were deported today on the Italian liner Saturnia, the largest number aboard one ship in "a long, long time," immigration officials said. Most of the all-male group were seamen who had jumped ship. Others were stowaways and aliens who had overstayed their visas.

Vernon Airman on Duty At Overseas Island Base

Recently arrived in the Philippines to serve an overseas tour of duty with the U. S. Air Force is Sgt. George H. Hendrix, husband of Mrs. Wynona A. Hendrix, 2705 Bowie, box 1989, Vernon.

Upon his arrival in the Islands, Sergeant Hendrix was given the duties with the First Administrative Service Squadron at the Clark Air Force Base Hospital, located 60 miles north of Manila.

Sergeant Hendrix, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hendrix of Holland, Texas, has been in military service since January 1949.

Armour Plant Shut Down In Chicago by Strike

Chicago, Jan. 19. (AP)—Armour and Company's big Chicago plant was virtually closed today after a disturbance last night during which police said they dispersed 19 automobiles carrying pickets.

The plant employs about 5,000 CIO United Packing House Workers Union members who were off the job today. Armour officials said the plant will be reopened Monday.

The CIO has refused an offer to settle a wage dispute with Armour for a six cents an hour wage boost.

Close Observation Pays Off For Service Station Owner

San Antonio, Jan. 19. (AP)—Close observation paid off today for O. S. Brumley, operator of a filling station here.

Brumley and his family, who live near the station, returned home from a movie about 1 a. m. Brumley noticed that the cash register in the station wasn't exactly in place, so he called police.

A Negro was flushed out from under a car standing on the grease rack.

Bureau Members To Attend Meet

One or more members of the Wilbarger County Farm Bureau legislative committee are expected to attend a Texas Farm Bureau Federation legislative conference in Waco, Jan. 23, C. G. Freeling, committee chairman has announced.

The conference is expected to take up specific legislative problems, in an effort to get legislation on resolutions passed at the Texas Farm Bureau convention which failed to gain support of the National Bureau federation.

Among these will be the farm labor situation and price stabilization on cotton.

Mr. Freeling says that the local committee is keeping close watch on developments and contacting congressional representatives when it is felt his influence can assist in bringing about desired results.

Members of the Wilbarger County legislative committee are J. Z. Munn, Luther Streit, H. A. Blevins and Mr. Freeling.

Bell Announces For Commissioner

W. G. "Pat" Bell has authorized the Vernon Record to announce his candidacy for Commissioner of Precinct Two, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

Regarding his candidacy, Mr. Bell had the following to say: "I have lived in Wilbarger County for the past 22 years. I feel I am qualified to fill the duties of commissioner. For six years I worked in Wilbarger County as a motor grader operator. I know how to build roads and maintain them."

"Since 1946 I have been terracing land in Wilbarger County. I feel the experience in this work better qualifies me to make a good commissioner."

"I will appreciate any support"

I may receive in this race, and if the best of my ability and for the elected, will serve the public to good of all concerned."
